Happily Reunited.

A romance in real life is the story of the separation and reuniting of Cyprion Turcott, a retired Captain in the French navy, and his wife Mary, after three years of absence; of patient toil and duty on the wife's part, of forgetfulness, inconstancy, and finally love for another on the part of the husband.

The two were brought face to face a few days ago and to-day are living happily together.

Three years ago Turcott, who has served in lost a dozen years ago, was a Frenchman of war and has owned and commanded ocean sailing vessels, found himself in Denver a poor man again. His wife and two children were sent home on a visit to his wife's mother near Montreal, Canada, and Turcott went to work at the bottom of the ladder. He is a skillful blacksmith and secured a position.

This position he held until a few days ago, when he went into business for himself.

Letters between the husband and wife were few and at last ceased altogether. Mrs.

Turcott, who is a highly educated woman, supported her three children, a second girl being born on her arrival here, by teaching

French and music. She lived with her husband's parents near Montreal. Turcott, however, grew to forget his wife and family and fell in love with a lady of Denver. She returned his affections with ardor, and when an acquaintance told her Turcott had a wife she didn't care if he had a dozen; she loved him, and would marry him. Through a lawyer early divorce proceedings were begun. Turcott alleged that his wife had deserted him in Boston, and a summons was mailed to her at that city. It was returned undelivered. The divorce mill was grinding quietly and with dispatch, and Turcott was secure that everything was all right and he secured from the county clerk a new marriage license. It was his intention to marry his new love on the evening of the day when his expected divorce was granted.

But fate interfered. A friend of the wife wrote her of the divorce proceedings and engaged Attorney H. B. O'Reilly to look after her interests. Lawyer O'Reilly went for him, and Turcott arrived at the office.

He was elegantly dressed and showed that he was a man of refinement and education.

The lawyer told him the divorce proceedings would cost him $500 before he got through, and Turcott threw up both hands.

Just then there came a knock at the door and Turcott was asked to open it. He did so, and there on the threshold stood his wife and two little girls, one of whom he had never seen before. The sight melted the faithless husband completely. The wife fell upon his neck and both wept like children. The little ones were clasped in a father's strong arms, and the family walked out of the office united. The divorce pro-

no second wedding.—Omaha World Herald.

Letter from Loudoun

(Correspondence of the ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.)

PHILOMONT, Va., Aug. 22.—The annual grove meeting of the M. E. Church South, comprising Loudoun, Middleburg and Piedmont circuits which was held at Rector's

X Roads, closed to-day. Sunday last according to programme, Dr. Tudor, of Norfolk, preached from Romans, 1st chap. 17th verse, a most forcible and eloquent sermon to the largest and most attentive audience I ever witnessed, estimated to be from four to five thousand people. We had anxiously expected to hear the Rev. W. J.

Young, from your place, on Monday, but we understood his health would not admit so. Dr. Tudor filled his place. Subject, "Foreign Missions," which was another able effort. Dr. Peterson, of Richmond, followed on Tuesday. Subject, "Baptism." And I can't say from what I saw and heard that the sermon was received as it was intended, as quite a number of our Baptist friends were considerable out of humor. We had delightful weather, splendid preaching, good singing, lots of great big warm bearded old associates and friends. And, above all, plenty of food for the spiritual, and physical man. Our church here will soon be on the road to completion, as our farmers are through with their busy work and will lend a willing hand.

There is a poor yield of wheat in this section, an average not exceeding ten bushels.

Corn is good. There is some little feeling in the cattle market as several have sold this week at an advance of from 12 to 15 dollars.

The Farmers' Alliance have commenced to organize in this county. Some think it will be a benefit. I only hope it may, as we need help, as Uncle Ben has signally failed in his so-called home market.

All pretty generally concede the democratic ticket to be the strongest we could have made, and will certainly lead to victory, and I trust forever down "Big Headed Billy," for I would not think his heart big from the casing that encircles it.

We have had quite a number of boarders in our midst this season, which made it pleasant for the young people.
